

about edb

“If there is any country on earth which understands what it takes to compete and win in the global economy today, it is Singapore.”

Carly Fiorina, Chairman & CEO, Hewlett-Packard

Hewlett-Packard (HP) picked Singapore to site its sole global hardware development and manufacturing centre for HP ProCurve Networking products. In Jan 2004, HP announced a US$1 billion investment in Singapore.

Growing global businesses from Singapore

For more than four decades, the Singapore Economic Development Board (EDB) has played a lead role in charting and driving Singapore’s economic growth. Today, Singapore is a strategic and compelling global hub for business and investment.

EDB officers work with companies to help them establish value-creating operations across both manufacturing and internationally traded services sectors.

To keep ahead in a knowledge-driven world, EDB acts as a catalyst and facilitator in growing new industries and technologies and creating a supportive environment for startups and innovation to flourish.

Our commitment continues to be ensuring a safe, reliable and conducive business environment which allows companies to optimise the returns on their investments, and to attract global talents.